Bryan Mours

Head coach

Bryan Mours (MOHRS) is entering his first season as men's and women's tennis coach at Central College.

Mours will assume his duties this summer after completing his fifth season as the Pella High School boys' tennis coach. He previously served as head boys' tennis coach at Dike-New Hartford High School in 2000.

He replaces highly successful Central coach Doug Stursma, who resigned late last fall after 13 seasons as men's coach and 14 years as women's coach.

Mours played for two seasons at the University of Northern Iowa and is a UNI graduate. He is an experienced tennis instructor, teaching at several private clubs including the Bull's Eye Country Club in Wisconsin Rapids, Wis. where he was the head tennis professional for four years. He took over as tournament director for the USTA Pella Junior Open last summer.

"Obviously Doug Stursma laid a great foundation for the program," Mours said. "I hope to build upon that. Certain things will change with a different coach, but our ultimate goals remain to win the Iowa Conference and compete in the NCAA Division III championship tournament."

During his tenure at Pella High School, Mours' teams' have had nine state tournament qualifiers in four seasons, with four top-four individual finishes. Last summer's squad reached the final eight in the team tournament. In all four seasons his teams received the Iowa High School State Athletic Association's Academic Team Award for having a combined grade point average above 3.25.

"The fact that our teams have competed at a high level has helped set the stage for me making the transition from high school to college," he said. "I'm very comfortable making that transition."

"We're excited about having Bryan on our staff," said athletics director Al Dorenkamp. "He brings a lot of energy and enthusiasm. Bryan 's done a great job of building the program at Pella High School and increasing the numbers. We think he has the personality to be an excellent recruiter and will be a good fit at Central."

While Mours doesn't officially start his new job until midsummer, he said he will begin recruiting immediately. He wants players to know he's committed to their development.

"Players can expect that I will hold them accountable for what they do and that they will work hard," Mours said. "But at the same time, we'll have a lot of fun. I want to make their Central College experience one they can be proud of for the rest of their lives."

Outlook

Last season provided a gratifying finish to Doug Sturmsma's 13-year tenure as Central College women's tennis coach, but new coach Bryan Mours isn't waiting before aiming even higher in his first season.

Following a 10-3 regular-season dual campaign, the Dutch pulled off a big surprise by tying for first place at the Iowa Conference individual tournament last fall. That put Central in the final four of the team championship tourney before two dual losses left the Dutch with a fourth-place finish and a 10-5 overall record.

Sturmsma isn't the only one not returning. Central also graduated No. 1 player Kristin Kovar, a three-time all-Iowa Conference honoree in singles who also earned the distinction twice in doubles. But the Dutch return the other five players from last year's singles lineup.

"We expect to compete at least at the same level as last year's team," Mours said. "Replacing a No. 1 player like Kristin Kovar will be a challenge. But we have some kids who I think can step into that spot and succeed."

Getting the first look will be junior Hillary Baehr, who placed second in the league at No. 2 singles and posted a 10-6 mark. Senior Katie Moklestad, a team co-captain last year, was 8-9 at No. 3 singles, finishing fifth in the conference while senior Whitney Visser was fourth at No. 4, also going 8-9, sophomore Faith Bliss was second at No. 5 with a team-best 14-3 record and senior Jennifer Knobbe was third at No. 6, recording an 11-4 mark.

Knobbe teamed with Kovar to take second at No. 1 doubles. Baehr and Moklestad were second at No. 2 doubles and graduated Maureen Khairallah played with Bliss for second at No. 3.

"They're all going to get an opportunity at practice," Mohrs said. "Right now it's kind of hard to say where I see it all shaking out."

Despite getting a late start, Mohrs hit the recruiting trail in full stride and is already bringing in one of the largest freshman classes in the program's history as nine newcomers are expected to join the Dutch for preseason workouts in August.

"As a head coach in my first year, it's a good situation," Mohrs said. "We've got a lot of returning players, so the freshmen don't have to step in right away unless they're really ready. We can grow and develop together and they don't have to get fed to the wolves."

Nonetheless Mohrs expects the team to get some help from the rookies. Facing stiffer competition in practice than they did in high school should accelerate their progress, he said.

"We're really excited about some of the players we're bringing in," he said. "If we can surround them with good players every day in practice, I think we're going to see many of them really grow and blossom."

As they improve, Mohrs won't hesitate to insert them into the lineup.

"We're going to play around with the lineup for a while," he said. "I'm a firm believer that no lineup spot is ever safe. Some players don't start off the year very well, but if by mid-season they're hitting their stride, we'll give them a chance."

"Players need to bring their A game to practice. They need to do the things they're capable of doing every day in order to keep that spot and continue to play."

Coe, Cornell and Luther finished ahead of the Dutch at last year's league tourney. Mours calls Luther and Coe clear favorites in 2007 with Loras pushing for a top spot as well. Central, which has placed fourth or high in 21 of the past 24 seasons, is likely pegged for the middle of the pack by most.

"I would hope we'll still be in the top half," Mours said. "On paper it doesn't seem realistic for us to compete for the conference title but I'm never going to completely write that off as a possibility. I can promise that the players are going to work hard and they're going to improve."

Mours likes the season schedule.

"I think we've done a good job of finding the balance between matches against really tough competition, some matches that will be extremely competitive and some that, on paper, we should be favored," he said.

"The players I've talked to are really excited. It's a new regime and the players seem like they're ready to work hard and get going. As a new coach, I can't ask for more than that."
